Prerequisites :	To take this class, the student must be enrolled in the course LFRAN 1401.
Main themes :	Students produce a wide range of texts: letters, newspaper article, fantastic short-story, critical review, message on a forum'
Aims :	At the end of this course, students can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -- write a review of a film, book or play; -- write clear, detailed texts on a variety of subjects related to his/her field of interest, synthesising and evaluating information and arguments from a number of sources; -- write an essay or report which develops an argument, giving reasons in support of or against a particular point of view and explaining the advantages and disadvantages of various options. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Evaluation methods :	During the semester (50%) <ul style="list-style-type: none"> -- The several written productions(+corrected version) completed during the semester count for the final evaluation (40%) -- The list of mistakes and specific structures (happy mistakes file) counts for the final evaluation (10%). The final exam (50%) includes questions on textual competences (10 %) as well as a written production (40%).
Teaching methods :	Each 2 hour-course is divided in two parts: a phase of discovery in which students listen, read or watch a document they discuss in small groups. The second part of the course focuses on writing a production that is related to the situation of communication seen previously. Students adopt the technique of rewriting, which means that they have a text of reference that helps them to make their own production. All the texts produced in class can be corrected and improved at home with the help of grid before they hand out their final copy the following week. All the students are invited to complete a 'roadmap' called 'happy mistakes' (vive mes gaffes!) on which they indicate all the corrections they have made on their copies.
