Content :	The course focuses on interactive communication within the professional framework. The proposed activities therefore aim at developing communication skills in that area, as well as improving mastery of the language (general and specific vocabulary, grammar, pronunciation). These activities, which simulate real-life situations, are of two types: 1) presentation and activation of language functions related to the professional life (socializing, telephoning, travelling abroad, contributing to / organizing and conducting a meeting, taking part in a job interview, building up an argument, negotiating) 2) individual and interactive speaking activities related to the field of study. These activities are thus directly related to the legal field and include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - oral expression activities on subjects with a legal orientation (euthanasia, human rights, role-play simulating a strike, simulation of simple steps when setting up a company) - an individual mini-presentation and a presentation in a pair or group of students on a field related subject followed by an interactive class activity (half an hour for a pair of students). These activities require a certain amount of preparation on the part of the student, who has to improve his or her grammar skills autonomously (through revision of the grammar points needed). Moreover, the student will have to study specific material which will be indicated (sentences related to language functions as well as vocabulary of the course notes, files on stress and pronunciation, files on the most common grammar and vocabulary mistakes). The Self tuition Centre of the Institute is at his/her disposal.
