

2.0 credits

20.0 h

Teacher(s) :
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes :	Introduction to the general concepts of work analysis. Objectives of work analysis depending on the disciplinary approach. Different forms of work analysis (including the underlying models and actions).
Aims :	This course is an analysis of work centred on the understanding, diagnosis and transformation of situations in the workplace. It is designed to introduce students to the different ways in which work can be analysed involving different disciplinary approaches (ergonomics, psychology and health and security). The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Content :	This course is an analysis of work centred on the understanding, diagnosis and transformation of situations in the workplace. It is designed to introduce students to the different ways in which work can be analysed involving different disciplinary approaches (ergonomics, psychology and health and security). Introduction to the general concepts of work analysis. Objectives of work analysis depending on the disciplinary approach. Different forms of work analysis (including the underlying models and actions).
Other infos :	Oral presentation of the theoretical and methodological elements together with exercises on real cases and issues from the world of work. Assessment methods : Assessment on exercises done during the course.
Cycle and year of study :	> Advanced Master in Risk Management and Well-Being in the Workplace
Faculty or entity in charge:	PSP