Main themes :	Putting the European idea into long-term perspective should help us distance ourselves from what is too often a teleological interpretation of European construction. The distinction to be maintained between Europe as thought and Europe in action is hence fundamental. As for Europe in action, the role of institutions is obviously essential. But it should not hide the Europe of men, nor the Europe of States. So these themes will be stressed, as well as the role of contingency in the dynamics of European construction.
Aims :	By the end of this course, the student should be able to delineate the functioning of European institutions as well as the stakes of European construction, not only in their immediacy but also, and especially, in the historical dynamics proper to them. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
