Teacher(s) :	Counet Jean-Michel ;
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes :	These objectives will be achieved after a presentation of the characteristic axes of monastic and scholastic theologies. The birth, the main theologians of the XII century and the important syntheses of the scholastic theology will be studied with some indications on the late scholastic and the heterodox doctrines.
Aims :	At the end of this activity, the student will be able to - make the difference between various types of theology practised in the Middel Ages (methods; sources; literary genres; historical, cultural, institutional contexts). - use the main tools in the field and deepen a specific question in a personal research. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Content :	In 2009-2010 the course will deal with the question of Christ's knowledge. How have theologians reconciled the fact that Christ is a man and experiences a progress in his knowledge and the fact that he has a divine nature and is thereby blessed with an omniscience commanding unreserved belief in his testimony? How are we to understand the medieval thesis that Christ enjoyed the vision beatific as of his conception? The course will pass in review the major milestones in medieval reflection on the subject and propose contemporary paths for reflection on an important Christological problematic that is all too often left on the sidelines nowadays.
