

5.0 credits

30.0 h

Teacher(s) :	Delhalle Dominique ; Ruysen Arnaud ; Ryckmans François ; Grevisse Benoît (coordinator) ;
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes :	Students will be encouraged to learn about such matters as the need for messages to be consistent and pertinent, and the technical and time constraints of this work, and to introduce them to the basic elements of radio grammar in respect of spoken information.
Aims :	To familiarise students with the demands of daily radio journalism, and to encourage them to carry out a critical evaluation of their work. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Evaluation methods :	Ongoing assessment.
Teaching methods :	Methodology: Exercises, learning by trial and error, and ongoing assessment of students.
Content :	# Learning about the key elements of radio grammar in respect of information, including particular features of different kinds of information (e.g. radio news, short articles, interviews and auditive reporting), together with the effective inclusion of theoretical aspects of language. # A growing awareness of the problems of collecting and processing information specific to radio information. # Familiarisation with the technical procedures of producing for radio.
Other infos :	This course requires supervision from Assistants.
Cycle and year of study :	> Master [120] in Information and Communication > Master [60] in Information and Communication
Faculty or entity in charge:	COMU