

5.0 credits

15.0 h

1q

Teacher(s) :	Ait-Chaalal Amine ;
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes :	Topics presented during the course will depend on current events in international diplomacy related to the foreign policy of Germany, Brazil, China, France, United States, India, Japan, United Kingdom and Russia. The analyzed topics, chosen by the professors' staff , will be adapted depending on the current international questions.
Aims :	The students will be able to give a structured, coherent and pertinent analysis on specific topics of international diplomacy in relation to the Great-Powers' foreign policy. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Content :	Contents: the topics are subdivided in several specific themes making it possible to determine and detail them. These subjects are distributed between the participants in the seminar, by groups. While giving the emphasis on a political and diplomatic approach of international relations, other dimensions are also integrated: history, culture, economy, ideology, law and strategy. Method: the seminar begins with lectures from each professor. These lectures will give a general framework to the studied issues. It will also give the main methodological and bibliographical research steps. After these introductory lessons, the following lectures present a more specific set of themes, followed by debates with all the members of the seminar.
Other infos :	"Law Of the Nations", "Geopolitics and the Contemporary International System ", "International Organisations" Participation to the seminar and a written essay List of bibliographical references given at the beginning of the seminar Work supervision by lecturers
Cycle and year of study :	> Master [120] in Political Sciences: International Relations
Faculty or entity in charge:	PSAD