Advanced Studies in Moral Philosophy B

5.0 credits	30.0 h	1q	This biannual course is taught on years 2010-2011, 2012-2013, ...

Teacher(s) :
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites :	The course requires an introduction to moral philosophy at the bachelor level and a good reading knowledge of English.
Main themes :	In order to attain the objectives that have been set, the course will concentrate each year on a different theme that will allow the relationships between different orientations in philosophical ethics to be seen - concrete issues of "applied" ethics and methodological reflection. The conceptual analysis will be accompanied by case studies.
Aims :	By the end of the course the student shall be able - to analyse selected topics in the field of moral philosophy; - to develop a well argued point of view, taking a position relative to various approaches to ethics; - to use appropriately the tools of research in philosophy and in interdisciplinary collaboration. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".

Content :	All human beings are looking for happiness, but in many different and often contradictory ways. Happiness has always been a key topic of moral philosophy. Starting from the idea of happiness, the course suggests a new reading of texts belonging to great traditions of ethics. This reconstruction allows a profound analysis of the status of ethics as a philosophical discipline (1), a clarification of the relationships between ethics and empirical research (2) and a reflection upon the links between philosophy and artistic creativity (3). window.parent.CKEDITOR._"contentDomReadyeditionForm:j_idt67:richtext";
