

3.0 credits	30.0 h	1q	This biannual course is taught on years 2014-2015, 2016-2017, ...

Teacher(s) :	Deproost Paul ; Yante Jean-Marie ;
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites :	Have successfully completed LFIAL1780 Latin language and texts : poetry or LFIAL1760 Introduction to Latin
Main themes :	A plan of the course with further details is given to students at the beginning of the academic year. The author for study changes every year. Preceded by rigorous translation work, analysis of the author highlights various aspects: philological criticism, grammatical observations and commentary on striking use of language, biographical, historical and cultural context of the work, documentary and human value of the message, introduction to the problems of literary criticism applied to a Latin text, study of literary genres, value as an example of a Latin text in the history of thought or literary aesthetics, realia.
Aims :	By the end of this course, students will be able to "read" the text of a Latin prose writer from the Imperial or Republican period. This will involve various kinds of work: translation and grammatical, linguistic, historical, literary and, more globally, cultural commentary. For the translation and comprehension of Latin authors, this course will highlight the linguistic and cultural reference points for today's readers in the literary production of Latin antiquity. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Evaluation methods :	Oral examination on the lectures and on an individual reading assignment.
Teaching methods :	Lectures
Content :	Designed for non-specialist students in the second and/or third year, this course is part of LFIAL1781 Latin language and texts : prose, restricted to the lecture part of the course (30 hours). The author for study changes every year.
Bibliography :	Available at the beginning of the year.
