

3.0 credits

30.0 h

Teacher(s) :
Language :	Français
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes :	The course provides an overview of the two main types of models in ergonomics, i.e. operator activity models and ergonomic intervention models. It mainly comprises presentation and discussion of the research done by the lecturers and researchers.
Aims :	This course is designed to formulate topics for research from problems in the workplace, to select methods to deal with these topics and to test the coherence and validity of the results. The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Content :	This course is designed to formulate topics for research from problems in the workplace, to select methods to deal with these topics and to test the coherence and validity of the results. The course provides an overview of the two main types of models in ergonomics, i.e. operator activity models and ergonomic intervention models. It mainly comprises presentation and discussion of the research done by the lecturers and researchers.
Other infos :	Teaching method(s) : Theoretical presentations. Illustration and discussion on real research projects. Assessment methods : Development of a research topic and methodological plan.
Cycle and year of study :	> Advanced Master in Risks Management and Well-Being in the Workplace
Faculty or entity in charge:	PSP