	emphasis is put on the food retailing sector and on recent themes related to reatiling, in particular through lectures of professional experts in the area. The mix of lectures, case studies, and discussions with professionals make students face the retailing world. Furthermore, deep thinking that students have to make, per team, on a Belgian retailer, let them better comprehend this world.
	More precisely, the main themes are:
	- a systemic approach of the marketing channels
	- the role of the intermediaries within the retailing channel
	- distributors performance
	- merchandising decisions (location selection, assortment optimization, etc.)
	negotiation principles
