

In view of the health context linked to the spread of the coronavirus, the methods of organisation and evaluation of the learning units could be adapted in different situations; these possible new methods have been - or will be - communicated by the teachers to the students.

16 credits

60.0 h

Teacher(s)	Louis Marc ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes	Define a business competitive terms (Positioning) Attractiveness analysis Analysis of users' behaviour; Organization of general accounting; Segmentation and selection of target markets, choice of development of services (inventory and demand forecasting); + practical training (75 hours) and report
Aims	At the end of the course the successful student will be able to... to teach student to develop his ability for decision-making process (on individual and collective level) through gathering and the analysing relevant information and selecting the most satisfactory options; to carry out a competing analysis in various fields of the physical activity industry; to evaluate the competitive advantage (competition analysis); to establish analyses of costs. To understand the concepts of differentiation and segmentation of target markets; to lead a business and its development. + training course and report to enable student to improve his communication skills, by giving the opportunity to present an effective argument, (both orally and in writing) about a particular business sector). 1 ----- The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Content	The course defines several techniques and methods which are intended to organize activity at an individual, departmental or company level. This course focuses on contemporary sport issues (facility and project development) showing the growing importance of working on a project basis. The course is structured around the characteristics of products/services and processes in a short, medium and long term planning of activities. The teaching methods adopted vary according to subject matter, and involve a combination of lectures, readings (preparatory or accompanying), analyses of concrete situations using simple examples and case studies.
Other infos	Evaluation : Written examination, written report Support : Books Supervision : titular
Faculty or entity in charge	FSM

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Aims
Master [120] in Motor Skills: Physical Education	EDPH2M	16		