Thèmes abordés	Purpose and Philosophy of the course: The course Advanced Human Resource & Organization Management (AHROM) has two targets: the future Operational (or line) managers, and the future Human Resource generalist practitioner. To the future line manager, the course will bring an understanding of the HR function and its interactions with the business - it will answer questions such as: "how does HR help me ; to the future HR practitioner, it will provide a framework and methodology to deliver value. To the future HR generalist or manager, the course will provide a strong framework and introduction in the core of the HR "business". It will answer questions such as: "how does HR create value in an organization?", "how do i create an HR strategy aligned with the business?"; "what are the roles HR should organize?".... and much more. The course is designed to confront students with real cases (incl. testimonials) where operations and HR/Organization specialists teams up to face organization transformation challenges. The course is rooted in the contemporary managerial context where the following (non exhaustive) trends can be easily spotted: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - typical organizational lifecycle events: merger, acquisition, downsizing, restructuring, transformation, ... - organizations are challenged: flat organizations, "entreprise libérée/liberated company" holocracy, ..., - the role of manager is equally challenged: from a command-control perspective to a mentoring, coaching approach ...still delivering results; - organization of the work is challenged: new ways of working, "happiness at work", remote working, outsourcing, ... - leadership: new mandate for the leaders, ie to inspire, communicate, to impersonate the firm and not (only) "to tell" people... and for which a theoretical framework will be provided, in the form of keys to understand the role and value-add of an "HR/Business manager". Course assumptions: In this program, we assume that: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - HR (and organization management) are in the business not side to the business; the strategic alignment between what is typically described as "supporting" functions is key to business success; - HR processes and practices are not the preserve of HR professionals; the effective management of people and organization is a combined responsibility of line manager, HR and employee (in generic term); - knowledge on HRM and Organisation Design and Development (how to organize work) are key to any manager, and learning how HR (must) create value and/or how to interact with HR Professionals is essential to line manager and leaders; Main topics covered: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Formal components of organizations, - Organization transformation, - Business & HR Value Proposition,
Acquis d'apprentissage	Upon successful completion of the course, each student must acquire the following knowledge, skills and aptitude: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - recognize the importance of aligning HR and Business strategy, - understand the components of an HR strategy embedded in a business context, - understand the role(s) of HR professionals, - mastery of key HR processes/services and their interdependencies, - understanding of the breakdown of HR & Org. management btw HR professionals and Line Managers, - capacity to assess the impact of an organisational transformation on HR services/processes, - capacity to structure a strategy for a "supporting" function. 1 ----
