

Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the information below is subject to change, in particular that concerning the teaching mode (presential, distance or in a comodal or hybrid format).

5 credits	30.0 h	Q2
-----------	--------	----

Teacher(s)	Weymans Wim ;
Language :	English
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes	The interdisciplinary seminar 'Thinking Europe' aims to propose a comprehensive perspective on Europe as simultaneously a geographic space, a civilizational, historical and cultural entity, an object of philosophical reflection, as well as a programme of legal and political unification embodied by the European Union. These different categories must be seen in interaction, as examples taken from current events will show (for example the refugee crisis or the rise of Euroscepticism).
Aims	1 Acquire the capacity to confront different categories and models to reflect on Europe. Develop a critical and interdisciplinary understanding of European integration, linking a long-term and short-term perspectives. Using these skills in in class discussions. Also the capacity to do a close reading of theoretical texts as well as the capacity to debate and present will be developed. ----- The contribution of this Teaching Unit to the development and command of the skills and learning outcomes of the programme(s) can be accessed at the end of this sheet, in the section entitled "Programmes/courses offering this Teaching Unit".
Evaluation methods	Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the information in this section is particularly likely to change. The evaluation consists of two parts. (1) Firstly, there will be a permanent evaluation based on the participation of the student during the seminar (for example through small papers written during the semester, through paper-presentations during class or through the active participation during discussions) which will count for 50% of the final grade. Given that this is a seminar, attendance and active participation by the student are an essential part of the evaluation. In case of an enrolment for the August-exam session the grade for participation will be kept (cf. Article 78 of the "RGEE"). (2) Second, there is a final paper that will count for 50% of the grade.
Teaching methods	Due to the COVID-19 crisis, the information in this section is particularly likely to change. Develop a critical and interdisciplinary understanding of the European project. Acquire the capacity to confront different categories and models to reflect on Europe. Using these skills in in class discussions. Also, the capacity to do a close reading of theoretical texts as well as the capacity to debate and present will be developed. This seminar will in principle take place on campus, but if necessary because of the Covid-19 crisis alternative modes of teaching and participation will be offered through online platforms such as Moodle or Teams.
Content	The interdisciplinary seminar 'Rethinking Europe' aims to see Europe as an object of critical, theoretical and philosophical reflection by analyzing texts linked to topics such as "European Values" and by linking these to examples taken from current events (for example the refugee crisis, depolitisation or the rise of Euroscepticism).
Bibliography	Des textes à lire vont être mis à disposition de l'étudiantsur « Moodle ». Mandatory reading materials will be made available to students on "Moodle".
Other infos	English proficiency, both active and passive, is required, as well as a minimal knowledge of Europe and its history.
Faculty or entity in charge	EURO

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Aims
Master [120] in European Studies	EURO2M	5		