Learning outcomes
Evaluation methods	Certificate evaluation. Exam in June: five main parts: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Oral production (with and without interaction; conversation and pronunciation): 20% of the final mark</li> <li>• Written production: 20% of the final mark</li> <li>• Listening comprehension: 20% of the final mark</li> <li>• Leading comprehension: 20% of the final mark</li> <li>• Focus on forms (vocabulary, error detection and correction, grammar exercises): 20% of the final mark</li> <li>• The final mark for the course is the weighted mean of the five parts. As we are aiming to train language specialists, the focus on language accuracy is of particular importance. Details on the specific weight of language accuracy in each part is available in a document on the LGERM1327 Moodle page.</li> </ul> Continuous assessment: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• active participation in the conversation and pronunciation classes and in short videos</li> <li>• portfolio of written assignments: five individual assignments and one group assignment will be set throughout the year (3 written assignments per term).</li> <li>• exemption vocabulary test during the January session (exemption: 10/20): one third of the final mark for the 'focus on forms' part of the written exam in June.</li> </ul> Students who have to resit the June exam (September session) need to redo the exam parts for which they did not get 10/20 in June or the parts for which they were absent (oral production, written production, listening comprehension, reading comprehension, focus on forms). Words of caution <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• At the end of the academic year, some parts of the exam will take place before the official exam session. No 'catch-up' session will be organized for these parts.</li> <li>• Students who do not hand in the written assignments of the portfolio on time or who do not participate in the videos will be penalised: one mark per missing assignment will be deducted from the final grade for the written production part of the course and/or five marks will be deducted from the final grade for the oral production part (no video).</li> <li>• An absence for any part of the exam, be it justified or not, will result in an overall absence grade (A) for the whole exam.</li> </ul>
