Evaluation methods	Homework will be assigned before every class in order to help our students progress throughout the year. These tasks will not be evaluated as such, but will be included in a participation grade. The student will therefore not only have to actively participate in the classes, but also complete the different tasks and correct them according to the teacher's feedback. The evaluation at the end of the semester will allow the student to assess this progress. Practically: First semester (40% of the total grade) The written evaluation will take place in week 14. Students will have to study the thematic vocabulary of the syllabus as well as the grammar. Students will also have to write a summary of an article. This test will count for 18 points out of the 20 (Q1). Second semester (60% of the total grade) In Q2, the student will have to do the following tasks: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Presentation of a group work related to the field of communication (4 points) OR Tandem project Video project: the students will present in class or on Teams, in groups of two or alone (depending on the current health situation) an "unknown" village of Wallonia OR one of their passions. They will have to make a video and a PowerPoint to talk about the subject. Students will be evaluated on the language, but also on creativity OR: tandem project 2. Oral evaluation (6/20) The oral evaluation will take place in the June session. This will be an individual evaluation: students will have to talk about two articles of their choice (related to one of subjects of the syllabus or a theme related to communication), as well as the topics covered in the course (themes/videos/project). 3. Written exam (8 points): the written evaluation will take place in week 13. Students will have to study the thematic vocabulary of the syllabus + reading comprehension + written expression. This written expression could take place before Easter or during the exam in S13. 4. Participation grade (2 points) Important If the student does not pass the January test or submits a medical certificate, he or she must retake this part in Q2 (he or she will retake the entire test, i.e. January and June). For the September exam: there will be a written test on Q1 and Q2, as well as an oral exam. The permanent evaluation will be taken into account if it is in favor of the student.
Teaching methods	This teaching unit is structured around themes, each of which includes receptive and productive activities aimed at consolidating and broadening vocabulary and grammar. This teaching unit focuses mainly on oral production about field-related themes. Video and audio fragments are used to illustrate the themes. For each theme discussions or role plays are provided giving the student the possibility to use the newly acquired vocabulary. The student will also have to give a presentation on a topic related to the field of communication. The classroom activities require a certain amount of preparation on the part of the student (exercises, vocabulary, ...) Teaching methods Depending on the current health situation, classes will be taught either on site or online (2 hours every two weeks)
