

6.00 credits

30.0 h

Q2

Teacher(s)	Rassart Emmanuelle ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Prerequisites	To have gained B2 in reading and listening in French (Common European Framework of Reference for Languages).
Main themes	Variety of activities in French designed to improve written comprehension and production in the area of business : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • reading/reformulation of specialised articles and works, reformulation exercises, producing reviews of reading, particularly ; • analysis and production of specialised discourse (infomercials, press releases, records of meetings, letters and emails, editorials). These activities are done on both an individual and group basis. The individual tasks focus especially on : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • progressive training in reading and writing tasks assessed in the examination ; • comprehension and production of specific specialised discourse which are first assessed during the course before the final examination. The group activities involve doing one or two projects presented at the beginning of the course (e.g. information letter or interview).
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. when reading, recognise and deal with appropriately the main characteristics of specialised discourse in business French; 2. produce some written material relevant to the world of business, adapted to the type of communication required and respecting the conventions regarding the genres and the enunciation of the discourse; 3. make use of communication tools and aids used in the business world to prepare, draft or present such written material.
Evaluation methods	Continuous assessment throughout the course on each student's participation as well as the work they do individually or in groups. A written examination at the end of the course, which focuses on the mastery of the professional French language and writing techniques seen during the courses, and on the self-evaluation of the skills acquired.
Teaching methods	Alternate lectures, supervised exercises, group work, meetings with professionals. Some activities could be transposed remotely depending on the evolution of the sanitary situation.
Content	This course consists mainly of activities done individually or in groups, thus making use of an inductive learning method. The main objectives of the exercise sessions are : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to supervise the individual and group learning tasks by using real-life projects, practical situations and/or by clearly describing the technical or theoretical elements required to carry them out; - to suggest overall ways of improving the different pieces of work presented in addition to assessments given to each student or group of students.
Inline resources	Moodle platform
Other infos	Having followed the LROM2670 course is a plus.
Faculty or entity in charge	ELAL

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Learning outcomes
Master [120] in Multilingual Communication	MULT2M	6		