

5.00 credits

30.0 h

Q1

Teacher(s)	De Roy David ;Wauters Kris ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes	The course consists to more understand the public and administration law and, in the same time, to complete the courses of economic law and European law. The main themes are : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - the status of free enterprise; -the methods and principles of public regulation of economy ; - the outline of the concept of economic public service and public company (normative framework and legal regime) ; - the rules applicable to economic public service in three dimensions : its relationships with its service providers or partners (Public Contracts) ; its relations with its competitors (competition law and financing) ; its relations with its users (general conditions; trade practices and consumer protection; administrative transparency) .
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : At the end of course, the student must be ability : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - to assess the normative framework of public intervention in the economy in relation to freedom of enterprise ; - to understand several jurisdictional and institutional systems about the organization and the working of economic public sector ; - to apply these knowledges by analyzing texts and documents ad hoc or by building juridicals thinking's and solutions on some's problems in this theme ; - to explain the developments and evolutions of the public law under the influence of economicals and socials factors.
Evaluation methods	The examination is oral, lasts 20 minutes and consists of two questions: a first question drawn at random and to be prepared concerns the introduction or one of the two parts (direct interventions/indirect interventions) of the first part; a second question without preparation concerns the other part (indirect interventions/direct interventions)
Teaching methods	This is an ex cathedra course. However, the lecturers illustrate their lectures with examples from legislation and case law.
Content	The course consists to more understand the public and administration law and, in the same time, to complete the courses of economic law and European law. After an introductory lesson on the intervention of public authorities in economic life (foundations, functions, principles and direct/indirect distinction), the course is divided into two parts: :1. The indirect intervention of public authorities in the economy: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * The freedom of enterprise and its limitations * The systems of economic regulation: organization (principles, actors, instruments, ...) * Economic regulation systems: jurisdictional protection * Public aid: the example of subsidies * Public aid and intervention in crisis situations 2. The direct intervention of public authorities in the economy: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> * The concepts of public service, service of general interest and universal service * The organisation of public services: functional decentralisation, autonomisation, public establishments, public companies * Management of public services: outsourcing, contractualisation, public contracts, inter-municipalities * Financing of public services Translated with www.DeepL.com/Translator (free version)
Inline resources	the teachers will make available on Moodle the slides or other materials that accompany each course and possibly doctrine, case law or any other relevant documentation. Some parts of the course will be based on The book 'Eléments de droit public de l'économie' by Pierre Nihoul.

Faculty or entity in charge	BUDR
-----------------------------	------

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Learning outcomes
Master [120] in Law	DROI2M	5		