Learning outcomes
Evaluation methods	The evaluation is carried out through the finalisation and defence of the dissertation. It is the grade of the dissertation that is carried forward.
Teaching methods	This teaching unit is offered in different ways depending on the student's profile: For students who do not yet have a dissertation promoter, even though they have successfully completed the courses in Annual Block 1, two follow-up sessions are offered by the professor. Students are invited to identify issues that have blocked them, to reflect on ways to overcome them, and then to write a dissertation project that combines their personal and professional interests and aspirations with the promoters' proposals for subjects and themes. For those students who have a promoter and who wish to be assisted in putting their research into practice, optional workshops are provided, in particular on methodological tools for processing qualitative and quantitative data. The workshops are provided by the assistants, while the teacher ensures the coordination and coherence of the workshops.
Content	The objective of this course is to help students who have successfully completed Annual Block 1 to complete their dissertation, particularly in the implementation of methodological tools adapted to their dissertation.
