

17.00 credits

Q2

This learning unit is not open to incoming exchange students!

Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : The master's thesis is an important time for learning by doing personal research. It must allow the student to develop and demonstrate an ability to manage by itself a question disciplinary asking assumptions, by implementing the relevant methodologies most suitable, analyzing and adequately interpret the information gathered and results achieved in creating relationships with one or more adequate theoretical frameworks, outlining and writing the content and the achievements of his entire approach. The memory of late Master 120 is therefore the culmination of a science curriculum. It requires the mobilization of all the methodology and heuristics approach university. The submission must demonstrate a capacity for synthesis and reflection and focus on targeted research questions.
Faculty or entity in charge	PSAD

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Learning outcomes
Master [120] in Sociology	SOC2M	17		