Language :	Italian
Place of the course	Bruxelles Saint-Louis
Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : The course proposes the discovery, analysis and study of the major literary movements that characterise Italy, but which are often reflected in the European context. Of these movements, five authors and works of ancient and modern Italian literature, belonging to different genres, will be studied in depth - including an epic poem, a novel, a collection of lyric poems, a collection of short stories, a play, a pamphlet, an autobiographical text. This will allow us to delve more deeply into these authors in a scientific and monographic manner and to focus on their specific literary production. The study of these authors will be carried out through courses given ex cathedra, as well as through the reading of a limited selection of poems and excerpts from the works indicated.
Evaluation methods	The course will be followed by a written exam in the June and/or August session. The examination will be divided into two parts: first, the content of the course given by the teacher, and second, the texts of the authors studied in the The written work will be evaluated separately. The final average will be calculated as follows: 70% (final exam) and 30% (written work).
Teaching methods	The lessons, given ex cathedra by the professor, are presented through Power Point presentations. However, the active participation of students is required. The aim will be to retrace the great movements in Italian literary history, as well as to study in depth 5 authors, from whom some extracts of major works will be read. These will be brought together in a "syllabus", in the original text with a French translation (for texts from the 13th to the 16th centuries). All PPT slides will be available on Moodle. The PPTs, designed in a synthetic way, will in no way replace assiduous participation in the course and discussions during the course.
Content	This course outlines the history of Italian literature from the 13th century (Duecento) to the 19th century (Ottocento). In particular, the major literary movements will be discussed, such as: Dolce Stilnovo, Pre-Umanesimo, Umanesimo, Riscoperta dei classici, Epopea rinascimentale, Barocco, Rivoluzione filosofica e scientifica, Riforma del teatro, Neoclassicismo, Romanticismo, Romanzo storico, Decadentismo, Verismo, Simbolismo. The study and reading of a specific choice of different authors will be proposed, which may change every year. Among these authors, the following could be chosen, in particular: poets Dante, Ariosto or the Cup, novelists Manzoni, Nievo, D'Annunzio, Pirandello, Verga, lyric poets Dante, Petrarch, Leopardi, Foscolo and Pascoli, theatre writers Goldoni, Alfieri, Pirandello, short story writers Boccaccio, Verga, Nievo, Pirandello and D'Annunzio, essayists Machiavelli, Guicciardini, Galileo, Beccaria, P. Verri, autobiographical writers Alfieri, Pellico.
Bibliography	Manuel La lecture d'un manuel synthétique d'histoire de la littérature italienne est fortement conseillée. En particulier, on peut en recommander deux, disponibles à la bibliothèque de Saint-Louis, ainsi qu'à l'achat dans le service reprographie : Carlo Vecce, Piccola storia della letteratura italiana, Napoli : Liguori, 2009. Andrea Battistini, Letteratura italiana, Bologna: Il Mulino, 2014, vol. 1 et 2. PPT Les présentations Power Point, mises à disposition des étudiants sur la plateforme Moodle, constituent une partie incontournable du cours, à connaître en profondeur. Syllabus Pour le contenu du cours, l'étudiant/e devra connaître les extraits/poèmes réunis dans le syllabus, et tirés des œuvres suivantes : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Dante Alighieri, Inferno (choix de quelques chants) • Carlo Goldoni, La locandiera • Ugo Foscolo, Les sonnets et le poème « Dei sepolcri » • Silvio Pellico, Le mie prigioni (Mes prisons). • Giovanni Verga, Vita de' campi (Nouvelles siciliennes). Si l'étudiant souhaite lire la totalité de l'œuvre, il pourra choisir une édition bilingue (recommandée pour Dante et Foscolo) ou une traduction française (recommandé pour Pellico, et Verga). Une bibliographie détaillée sera distribuée au début du quadrimestre.
