This biannual learning unit is not being organized in 2023-2024 !

Teacher(s)	Cavalieri Marco ;
Language :	French
Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main themes	The course considers in-depth questions and specific problems of interpretation related to social and political reconstructions based on archaeological sources concerning the city of Rome, from its foundation to the High Middle Ages, on the one hand, and of Italy and the Roman provinces, especially the West, on the other. The questions addressed concern different fields, notably urbanism, architecture, building systems, etc., and tend towards the definition of an interpretative scheme of Roman ways of life over the centuries.
Learning outcomes
Evaluation methods	Oral examination
Teaching methods	A combination of ex-cathedra lectures by the lecturer or invited guests and seminars. Sessions may be prepared by students based on the reading of one or more articles, the list of which will be published at the beginning of the year. They are also invited to participate actively in certain sessions which may take the form of a seminar.

Other infos	In 2022-2023, the theme of the lectures will be the Roman city. The course will focus on a variety of urbanistic issues, including the organisation and articulation of urban space in the Roman world, the role of public buildings and infrastructure. As part of the program in archaeology and art history, we will also look at the architecture, decoration and construction techniques of the various buildings and structures that make up a city. Rome, Ostia and central Italy will be the starting point for a reflection that will be extended to the entire Roman world, particularly in the western provinces of the Empire.
