History of French Literature from the Irom1100 Middle Ages to the French Revolution

5.00 credits

UCLouvain

45.0 h

2023

Q2

(identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of specific texts.Learning outcomesAt the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development.Evaluation methodsJune session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session.Teaching methodsFormal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides).ContentThe course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is
Place of the course Louvain-la-Neuve Prerequisites / Main themes Chronological survey of all French literature of the period under consideration. The course takes care to supply historical reference points (continuities, relationships, changes, distinct shifts) and to show literature in relation to its cultural, political, social and religious contexts. It alternates between the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of specific texts. Learning outcomes At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented.	Teacher(s)	Delsaux Olivier ;Guiderdoni Agnès ;Van Hemelryck Tania (coordinator) ;
Prerequisites / Main themes / Main themes Chronological survey of all French literature of the period under consideration. The course takes care to supply historical reference points (continuities, relationships, changes, distinct shifts) and to show literature in relation to its cultural, political, social and religious contexts. It alternates between the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of specific texts. Learning outcomes At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period; the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography	Language :	French
Protequisities . Main themes Chronological survey of all French literature of the period under consideration. The course takes care to supply historical reference points (continuities, relationships, changes, distinct shifts) and to show literature in relation to its cultural, political, social and religious contexts. It alternates between the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of specific texts. Learning outcomes At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Situate literary between the presentation of specific texts. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' atte	Place of the course	Louvain-la-Neuve
Main methods historical reference points (continuities, relationships, changes, distinct shifts) and to show literature in relation to its cultural, political, social and religious contexts. It alternates between the presentation of overall features (identification of literary currents, development of literary genres) and the presentation of specific texts. Learning outcomes At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to : 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Other infos /	Prerequisites	/
Learning outcomes 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. 1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Other infos / Faculty or entity in ELAL	Main themes	historical reference points (continuities, relationships, changes, distinct shifts) and to show literature in relation to its cultural, political, social and religious contexts. It alternates between the presentation of overall features
1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development. Evaluation methods June session: written exam as part of the exam session. August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Other infos / Faculty or entity in ELAL	Learning outcomes	At the end of this learning unit, the student is able to :
August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session. Teaching methods Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides). Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Other infos / Faculty or entity in ELAL		1 Situate literature in its different contexts (historical and formal); master the main lines of its development.
August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session.Teaching methodsFormal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides).ContentThe course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of 	Evaluation methods	June session: written exam as part of the exam session.
Content The course is conceived in the perspective of a culturally and politically contextualized literary history. After an introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Gother infos / Faculty or entity in ELAL		August-September session: written exam as part of the exam session.
introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of periodization in literature, and thus on the method of literary history, is also implemented. Bibliography Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre. Other infos / Faculty or entity in ELAL	Teaching methods	Formal lectures with a variety of teaching support (reading extracts of literary works, PowerPoint slides).
Bibliography Content of the second	Content	introductory session on each period, the subject is approached by literary genre (drama, novel, poetry, and others); the conceptual tools and vocabulary for analyzing each are highlighted. More specifically, students' attention is drawn to the material conditions of the production and dissemination of works. A reflection on the critical stakes of
Faculty or entity in ELAL	Bibliography	Les lectures obligatoires seront communiquées au cours du premier quadrimestre.
	Other infos	/
charge	Faculty or entity in	ELAL charge

Programmes containing this learning unit (UE)
Program title	Acronym	Credits	Prerequisite	Learning outcomes
Minor in French Studies	MINFRAN	5		٩
Bachelor in Ancient and Modern Languages and Literatures	LAFR1BA	5		٩
Minor in Literary Studies	MINLITT	5		٩
Bachelor in French and Romance Languages and Literatures : General	ROM1BA	5		٩
Bachelor in Modern Languages and Literatures : General	ROGE1BA	5		٩		