ADPU2M - Introduction

ADPU2M - Admission

For the specific conditions of this program : refer to the French version

General and specific admission requirements for this program must be satisfied at the time of enrolling at the university..

ADPU2M - Information

Learning outcomes

1. The Master in Public Administration offers courses based on :

- the analysis of the many different issues faced by institutions and players in the context of public policy;
- the acquisition of methods and skills to deliver effectiveness and efficiency in public sector administration;
- the modernisation and continuous assessment of change in public organizations.

2. In terms of professional training, this Master prepares students to take up various roles in the administration and management of public organizations, both at regional and local level as well as in bodies working in close collaboration with the public sector (e.g. political parties, trades unions and professional organizations). In addition, although the programme is not primarily aimed at the Belgian public sector, it nevertheless offers support to students wishing to prepare for certain entry examinations held by public institutions such as the government recruitment office (SELOR).

3. Finally, this Master gives students the opportunity to develop their individual research skills. They will acquire a rigorous framework for posing questions in a field of their choice (see the options), either in the context of the work placement and the dissertation (professional focus) or the dissertation project which then leads on to a doctorate (research focus).

Teaching method

The interdisciplinary nature of the programme is reflected both in the core subjects and in the area studies.

Wide variety of teaching strategies (including e-learning)

- most of the teaching staff have been trained to use of modern multi-media techniques and innovations introduced at the University such as i-Campus. Each year the overall teaching framework is strictly coordinated
- the objective of the seminars is to give students the methodological framework they will need for their individual projects, whether research or professionally based.

Wide variety of learning situations :

- possibility of a work placement (professional and research focuses)
- group work (core subjects as well as professional and research focuses)
- possibility of joining a research team (research focus)

Evaluation

It is up to each member of the teaching staff to decide on the most appropriate methods of assessment according to the objectives of the course: oral or written examinations, work to be done throughout the year (e.g. reviews of literature, case studies, essays) or exercises.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

- for the Chair of Political, Administrative and International Reform lectures, the Department of Political and Social Science invites two or three internationally renowned researchers in political science to address students at UCL. The lectures are either in French or English.
- the subjects available as area studies also encourage students to adopt a more international outlook
- study visits abroad lasting a semester are possible via exchange programmes such as Erasmus.

Possible trainings at the end of the programme

Doctoral programmes : Doctoral school in political science or any other doctoral school certified by the Graduate College in political and social science

Certificates

The introduction of a new Certificate in Administration (policy and management) in conjunction with the University Institute for Continuing Education (l'Institut universitaire de formation continue - IUFC) is under consideration.

ADPU2M - Detailed programme

Programme structure

Students are required to follow all the core subjects totaling 70 credits and must choose one of two focuses (research or professional), each of which is worth 30 credits. To complete the programme and reach the necessary total of 120 credits, there is a choice of options based on regional axes (for example Belgium, Europe and Asia) or language courses.

The first year of the Master concentrates on in-depth study of the management of public organizations and public policy (30 credits); it also includes three advanced courses related to the other areas of political science (comparative politics, international relations, European studies for 15 credits) and optional subjects (15 credits).

During the second year, students pursue their focus (30 credits), produce a dissertation (25 credits) and choose a further 5 credits.

The research focus is designed to improve research skills in public administration. The teaching, which is shared with the 120 credit Master in political science, is designed to improve students' methodology, help them learn how to work in a research team and to show them how to start preparing for their doctorate.

The research focus in policy and administration prepares the student for a professional career. Through a series of cross-disciplinary courses which bring together comparative politics, the analysis of public policy and related disciplines (law, communication, sociology, ethics), students develop practical skills in the field of public policy, in the widest possible sense. This focus also includes a period of compulsory work placement supervised by a lecturer from the Department. The work placement is associated with the student's dissertation.

The Erasmus and, to a lesser extent, the Mercator schemes provide finance for study visits abroad for a semester.

In the context of the "Louvain Academy", UCL and FUCAM (Facultés Universitaires Catholiques de Mons à Mons – Catholic University Faculties of Mons in Mons) offer jointly Masters' programmes (120 credits) in Political Science, either as a general subject or with the emphasis on international relations or public administration. Students may choose to study the focus at a partner institution and gain a degree issued jointly by the two institutions. These exchanges are made possible by specially coordinated courses and timetables.

Whatever the focus or the options chosen, the programme of this master shall totalize 120 credits, spread over two years of studies each of 60 credits.
