Specific Admission Requirements

- Candidates must have a degree as a Doctor in medicine, or a Master in medicine or as a doctor from a member state of the European Union which enables them to practise in Belgium.
- They must also have a document showing that after the selection examination, they have gained a place to specialize in emergency medicine in a Belgian medical faculty.

NB : Prior training for the Advanced Master in Intensive Medicine may count for three years.

Further details of the legal requirements and the practical procedures involved in the selection examination may be obtained from the administrative office. Holders of a degree from outside the European Union may not enrol for this programme except in the context of a university certificate in partial specialized training lasting two years (if they are studying a specialization in their home country) or advanced specialized training for a year (if they have already gained the status of specialist in their country).

Applications should be submitted to the lecturer in charge of the programme. The organization of the selection examination is in accordance with the timetable and the general examination regulations.

Selection committee

Bodart Eddy, Danse Etienne, Dubois Vincent, EL GARIANI Abdul Wahed, GILLET Jean Bernard , MARION Eric, MEERT Philippe, MOULIN Didier , Reynaert Marc, THYS Frédéric, VANDENBOSSCHE Pierre, VANPEE Dominique, VERSCHUREN Franck, VEYCKEMANS Francis, two coopted members (Zech Francis, Delloye Christian) and two invited members (Jacques Jean Marie, Pelgrim Jean Pierre). A representative from the MACCS.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams. More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

Candidates' knowledge will be tested through continuous assessment by the placement supervisor and by examinations on the subjects taught. In addition, candidates must produce a piece of scientific work to present in a public class and to a national or international emergency medicine convention and/or published in a recognized scientific journal.

When the above requirements have been fulfilled, the programme committee will award the academic qualification in emergency medicine.

This is not a substitute for recognition by the ministerial committee. It is evidence of academic and scientific training in the context of specialized training leading to the award of professional status.

Training as a specialist doctor in intensive medicine may count for three years towards the total of six years' training required to become a specialist doctor in emergency medicine.
