GEST2M1 - Introduction

Introduction

Introduction

This Master's degree can be completed in one year and covers most of the basic management programme. It aims to train you in the main management skills to enrich your basic training, previously acquired in another field.

Your profil

You

- have a second cycle university degree in sciences, in applied sciences or in human sciences;
- wish to acquire additional management training;
- wish to give an added value to your degree by developing an understanding of the management problems of the organisations or companies where you will be called upon to practise your profession;
- have a bachelor's degree economics and management from the French Community of Belgium.

You will get

- develop your knowledge and skills in various management positions needed in the private or public organisations;
- an in-depth understanding of the theories and methods used in different managerial domains;
- a strong training in management within an internationally recognised university;
- an opportunity to create your own network;
- a unique international experience in the heart of Europe.

Your futur job

The ability to undertake, to transform initiatives into economic realities, to organise and ensure their continuity, to find the necessary resources and to combine them adequately are the skills expected of those who want to assume responsibilities in the direction and management of companies.

Our graduates are present in the highest management positions of companies. They can also be found in consulting, auditing, banking, industry (production and operations management) or environmental management.

Your programme

The master is made up of the following four elements:

- Core subjects, worth 30 credits, composed of 6 courses representing the pillars of management;
- Training in the principles and issues of Corporate Social Responsibility, a core value of the Louvain School of Management;
- In-depth study in an area of management through 2 courses of your choice;
- An integration seminar and a final dissertation.

Please note that, depending on your academic background, teaching units (= prerequisite courses) could be added to your master programme.

GEST2M1 - Teaching profile

Learning outcomes

1. A profile of the graduate

The Master 60 in Management prepares the graduate to meet the challenge of becoming a socially responsible professional with a global overview of the management professions.

The Master 60 in Management is a programme that develops the basic skills and expertise necessary for management functions in public or private, national or international, commercial or non-commercial organisations.

A student who registers for this programme already has a first university Master's degree in a field other than management, or a university Bachelor's degree in management. This Master's programme allows him to either expand his skills in management functions or refine them by incorporating an academic approach, a reflective view and critical detachment.

At the end of this programme, the graduate will be:

Responsible:

He is capable of implementing socially responsible management practices in private or public organisations.

A professional:

- He will have assimilated basic management theories and concepts for efficient, expert use in a future professional environment;
- He is capable of determining the complex and varied issues that commercial or non-commercial organisations encounter in management fields.
- He is capable of locating organisations in their socio-economic and institutional context, understanding the interdependences between the organisation and the environment and translating them into management decisions;
- He will have developed basic skills in all key management functions.

Aware of the responsibility inherent to his profession, the graduate will have acquired the mindset of a critical participant, capable of making decisions in organisational environments by putting ethical and socially responsible management values at the centre of his concerns. He will have adopted an approach of continuous development that will allow him to be a professional demonstrating flexibility, capable of adapting and evolving positively in his environment.

2. The competency framework

At the end of this programme, the graduate is capable of:

Introduction

The exit profile of the Master 60 in Management Sciences graduate is specified by the LSM competency framework, with in particular:

- an academic education centred on management training, with an overall approach to management functions;
- priority given to the following skills:
 - Acting as a socially responsible participant,
 - Mastering knowledge,
 - Acting in an interface role, making use of his professional experience;
- a possibility of developing some of these skills in greater depth through his choice of optional courses and thesis.

Programme structure

The 60 hour Master's degree in Management is made up of the following four elements:

1. Compulsory core courses, 6 courses for a total of 30 credits, representing the pillars of management.
2. A 5-credit course on the principles and issues of Corporate Social Responsibility, a core value of the Louvain School of Management.
3. An in-depth study in an area of management through 2 elective courses (10 credits).
4. A final dissertation (15 credits) including an integration seminar.

Please note that, depending on your academic background, teaching units (= prerequisite courses) could be added to your master programme.

Teaching method

This program provides general training and broad exposure relative to various areas of management.

It attempts to achieve an integration of such different areas in order to obtain a global understanding of businesses and to develop decision making and implementation capacity. With this objective, the program offers, on top of lectures which help structure business knowledge, the use of case studies and problem solving exercises. In this order, team work is often relied on.

This program intends to attract a target audience highly varied in its professional background and country of origin. The confrontation of different points of view among students, professors, lecturers and external speakers enriches students' perspectives on management and economics.

For students who face gaps in Economics or Maths / Statistics, courses will be added to their program in order to acquire the necessary prerequisites for a good understanding of management.

The lectures are complemented with individual or teamwork exercises, games, business simulation activities and in general, with tools that facilitate the understanding and assimilation of the concepts presented, even by students whose prior background is rather unrelated to management. This approach to learning is in line with the recent pedagogical reform at LSM-LLN and it has been widely appreciated by students. It has also been recently highlighted by the external auditors via the EQUIS accreditation procedure.

Evaluation

The evaluation methods comply with the regulations concerning studies and exams (<https://uclouvain.be/fr/decouvrir/rgee.html>). More detailed explanation of the modalities specific to each learning unit are available on their description sheets under the heading "Learning outcomes evaluation method".

There are different methods of assessment: individual and/or group work and/or written and oral examinations.

Mobility and/or Internationalisation outlook

This programme has, for many years, attracted a significant proportion of international students (+/-30%) who have already gained a first degree in their home country and who wish to have additional training in management.
