

Faculty of Medicine

FARM2170 Bioéthique and Christian morals

[15h] 1 credits

This course is taught in the 1st semester

Teacher(s): Michel Dupuis, Eric Gaziaux, Luc Roegiers
Language: French
Level: Second cycle

Aims

The development of some concepts founders in philosophical anthropology, theology and clinical ethics will make it possible to the students to continue to enrich their information and to be able individually to use these resources for the critical analysis of the situations where they intervienent in their professional practice.

Main themes

Fundamental concepts and methods of interpretation in philosophical anthropology, theology and clinical ethics. Applications to concrete situations of the professional practice of the pharmacist.

Content and teaching methods

Masterly presentation of the concepts and methods. Application to the concrete situations and analyzes critical interpretations. Masterly presentation of the problems of universalism and relativism.

Other information (prerequisite, evaluation (assessment methods), course materials recommended readings, ...)

Pre-necessary. Scientific formation as regards care of health (pharmaceutical sciences) Support: transparencies; syllabus. Evaluation: examination written according to indications received by the students

Programmes in which this activity is taught

EBIM9CE Certificat universitaire en éthique biomédicale