ROM1531 History of Spanish literature

[30h+15h exercises] 5 credits

This two-yearly course is taught in 2005-2006, 2007-2008,...

This course is taught in the 2nd semester

Teacher(s): Geneviève Fabry
Language: Spanish
Level: First cycle

Aims

At the end of this course, students should have a broad, historically founded knowledge of 20th-century Spanish literature. They should be able to situate the works studied in their historical and literary context and be able to interpret them both in terms of literal comprehension and from an intertextual point of view.

Main themes

The course presents the principal Spanish genres and literary currents of the 20th century, with an emphasis on the major works.

Content and teaching methods

The course will alternate lectures and analysis of works (narrative or poetic), either in the form of extracts (the students will receive a special anthology for this purpose at the beginning of the course), or in their entirety, so as to offer a complete panorama of Spanish literature of the 20th century.

Exercise sessions will enable students to assimilate the material dealt with in the lectures on the basis of individual or collective tasks, making use of complementary documents available on the Internet portal Hisp@cultura.

Other information (prerequisite, evaluation (assessment methods), course materials recommended readings, ...)

Prerequisite Spanish language courses I, II, and III

Evaluation A final written exam, combined with continuous assessment during the exercises.

Resources A syllabus, an anthology of texts, and the Hisp@cultura platform.
