3. Options

The student is requested to follow two options other than those taken previously.

4. End of course thesis

The nature and volume of the end of course thesis are determined on a case by case basis, depending on the thesis written by the student in the context of his previous "licence".

Evaluation

Formative evaluation tools have been established to provide each student with feed-back on his progress in relation with his training objectives.

The courses are based on theoretical and practical work and the thesis is presented before a jury.

Positioning of the degree within the University cursus

The "licence" degree in Educational Sciences entitles access to the upper secondary school teacher-training certificate in Educational Sciences (PSP 2A) and to the third cycle programmes in Educational Sciences (specialised study diploma, EDUC 3DS, higher study diploma PSP 3DA and the PhD diploma, PSP 3).
