

Faculty of Economic, Social and Political Sciences

ESPO2221 The information society

[30h] 3 credits

Language: French
Level: Second cycle

Content and teaching methods

Part I: Ideas about the end of the "industrial society"

- Theories about the phases (or stages) of the development (particularly the economic development) of modern, contemporary societies)

- The birth of the concept of the information society

Part II: The information society as it is defined, described and promised

- The newly affirmed characteristics of the information society

- The information society testing facts (the 1980s)

Part III: Towards a provisional conclusion; hypotheses on what there will be 15-20 years hence

- Towards a provisional conclusion

- Presentation of futures scenarios

Other credits in programs

ECAP22	Deuxième licence en sciences de gestion	(3 credits)	Mandatory
ECGE3DS/IO	Diplôme d'études spécialisées en économie et gestion (Master in business administration) (Management of Innovative Organizations)	(4 credits)	Mandatory